Title: A Journal II

Author: Leoric Gathenwale.

I finally found the first lever. I should have paid more attention to my grandfather's comment about a vanishing wall. According to his notes, the second level is hidden under a heavy stone which is controlled by this first lever. I heard a heavy grinding sound to the northwest. If his notes are accurate, I have a limited amount of time to find the location of the second lever before the stone covers it again. I best hurry!
